

History Council Agenda
October 4, 2022
(Meeting to be held at Arts & Culture Center)

6:00 PM – Meeting call to order

Welcome to visitors –

minutes – motion to accept the minutes

Old Business

- Submit request to MUSC re use f Fort Johnson on 11/6
- Follow up on Grimbball Road Historic Marker
- progress re contacting App developers for Historic Pathway review?
- Follow up on Grimbball Road Historic Marke, was edit satisfactory?
- update re: Joining the Reconstruction Era National Historic Network
- suggestion from Jim Morrisette: have on the town web site under History Commission; add new selection “research”. In it we can place papers which can help others interested in local history. We can put Inez’s material on school and churches, items from P. Hedden and Jim Morrisette; Skipper Keith has written articles for magazines; research for Fort Johnson; papers for us , and my paper. The Charleston Museum has on their web site a research selection where they place papers their staff has produced over the years. This has a precedent and would be a positive, easy to do.

New Business

- Plans for Fort Johson Day cannon; reenactors Sunday, November 6
Email from Paul Lopes 33rd Regiment of Foot, Revolutionary War reenactors: as of 9/22 group of 3-4 may be available for our presentation; possibility of a fellow: Matt Vincent in NC providing a cannon. Incorporate battle of Dills Bluff (November 14, 1782)
- 1st Shot: Day Sunday, April 16, 2023. Initial contact w/Citadel and Fort Sumter Civil War Round Table. First Shot; Last Shot Remembrance Day (1st shot of Civil War April 12, 1861. Last Shot of Civil War (assassination of Lincoln [April 14, 1865].
- Began process of contacting App developers for Historic Pathway review status.
- Follow up on Grimbball Road Historic Marker, was edit satisfactory?
- made contact w/Joe McGill re Juneteenth at Pinckney Park. Joe is available Sunday, June 18, 2023
- Next meeting James Island Historic Pathway – October 6, 2022 at Arts and Culture Center at 1:00 PM

Adjournment

Next Meeting: November 8, 2022