 - 3. From AAH: Car Accident Debris. I recently learned that when there is a car accident and debris is scattered on the road – the towing company is responsible for the removal of ALL the debris – even the little pieces. If you are cleaning a road with debris that was not completely removed post-accident - please reach out to the towing company (if possible) and ask them to come back and do a removal. If you prefer for me to reach out to them – please let me know and I will be happy to. Marlo Ann Shedlock mshedlo@clemson.edu
