

Minutes from February 22 Neighborhood Council Meeting

February's Neighborhood Council meeting was held at the Baxter Patrick Library where members were provided a complete tour by Amy Adams, the Chief Librarian.

Ms. Adams told us that the library offers services that many are unaware of. Free tax assistance, notary public services, ancestor and cemetery research capabilities and loaning out unique items, such as a telescope, are among these.

The group was then taken to the Learning Lab. This is where patrons with technological issues may seek assistance. This includes help with phones, computers, tablets, etc.

The library has a creative studio which offers many craft services for adults. A laminator, sewing machines, a laser cutter, engraver and 3D printer are available.

Other features of the Baxter Patrick Library include an outdoor patio for reading and a literacy room for children 5 and under. Meeting rooms are also available.

This tour was both interesting and informative. It offered a comprehensive look into what the Baxter Patrick Library had to offer.
